

Our Response to Covid-19

As we continue to monitor the status of Covid-19, the safety and well-being of our staff, our clients, and the communities we serve weigh heavily on hearts and minds. To do our part in reducing the spread of the virus, we are implementing the following temporary changes:

First, at the recommendation of state and federal health officials, many of our attorneys and staff are working remotely. Because we have the technological capability and know-how to perform nearly all of our work offsite, we do not expect any interruption in our ability to provide the exceptional legal services our clients are accustomed to receiving.

Additionally, we are temporarily limiting in-person meetings. We remain available via telephone and email, and we are happy to arrange telephonic conference calls, video calls, and web-based meetings. If you are in need of an in-person meeting, please contact the firm to make prior arrangements.

We are now, and we will remain, fully operational and actively serving clients.
